

Yearly Report: New Mexico

Director Dixie Boyle

New Mexico:

My goal this year was to make the public more aware that fire lookouts are still staffed. I have written numerous articles in newspapers and magazines about the history of fire lookouts in the state. I have given four talks on fire lookouts and am preparing for another one the end of February. I submitted three, lookouts to the former lookout register and am working on more.